

Chrysalis Health is a community based Mental Health and Substance Abuse Provider working with children, adolescents and adults.

Mental Health

At Chrysalis Health, we work with clients to develop custom treatment programs for their unique needs. Our services range from counseling clients with mild issues at home, at school and in our own facilities, to treating severe pervasive illness. With such diverse clients and needs, our team is constantly working to develop individualized treatment programs that give every person we treat the best chance for a full, healthy life.

Substance Use

One of our community's greatest challenges is helping those suffering with a substance use condition. At Chrysalis, we are committed to providing an empathic, compassionate, and integrated approach to helping those we serve make healthy, positive changes and improve their lives.

Sexual Trauma & Risk Reduction Therapy (STARRT)

The STARRT program features outpatient and therapeutic group home treatment for children and adolescents with problematic sexual behavior. Outpatient services are provided on-site at schools, after-care programs and in their homes. The outpatient program serves male and female clients, ages 2 to 18, displaying a wide range of sexual behavior problems.

Systematic Approach For Exploited & Traumatized Youth (SAFETY)

Sex trafficking or sexual exploitation is the control over a person, by the use of real or perceived threats of harm, if demands of sexual acts are not fulfilled. Victims of domestic sex trafficking generally come from vulnerable populations, including runaways, foster care children, homeless or displaced individuals, migrants, and economically disadvantaged.

The SAFETY program at Chrysalis was designed to evaluate, treat, and provide safety to victims of domestic sex trafficking in our communities. The emotional, psychological, and physical effects of coercion and sexual exploitation are addressed through outpatient counseling and individualized support services.
