

Grades in Edgenuity

Overall grade = how your child has done based on what has been assigned up to that point, like we typically do in a face-to-face classroom setting.

Actual grade = this is taking participation into account, so if the child is behind where Edgenuity thinks the child should be, they will be hurt by the fact that they're behind.

Relative grade = this is when all the grades for the quarter are entered as 0% and your child has to work through the assignments to raise those 0s to higher grades. It's what the grade would be if they chose not to do any more work for the quarter.

Although all forms of the grade are important for various reasons, the overall grade is what parents/students should focus on for the "class grade".
